SALEM PLANTS GUARDED; EXTRA POLICE ASKED

Ohio Posts Guards At Arsenals, Other Industrial Plants

Governor Bricker Calls On Every Citizen To "Do His Full Duty"; Buckeye Congress Group Approves Declaration of War

(By The Associated Press)
Ohioans responded to the alarms of war today by taking extra precautions against sabotage at arsenals, industrial plants and utilities installations.
As military and civilian authorities battened down the hatches at all points of vulnerability, the state's chief executive called upon every citizen to "do his full duty," and Ohio's congressional delegation stood ready to approve a declaration of war.
At one of Ohio's major arsenals, the $57,000,000 army shell-loading plant at Ravenna, a strike of four unions was still in progress. Company and union officials said they would proceed with today's conference with a conciliator, as scheduled.
Akron's rubber industry reported that the United States has about 600,000 long tons of crude rubber in storage, a normal year's supply which could be made to last longer under restrictions. All but three per cent of the nation's crude rubber comes from the Far East, via Singapore.

An order by Lieut. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis, commander of the Fifth corps area (Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia) set in motion anti-sabotage precautions at all strategic points and put all active-duty army men into uniforms.

FBI agents, police, and industrial protection systems were keyed into the movement for tightening all precautions.

There was no immediate indication of the possible effect on Ohio's munitions plants of a call for placing such facilities on a 24-hour basis made in Washington by Undersecretary of War Patterson.

Most of Ohio's key "defense plants," turned overnight into war plants, were already organized for protection, but added guard forces were prescribed for many.

Whitcomb and Patterson fields, near Dayton, described as "two of the highest stations in the United States" because of their experimental and service work, were reported by one official to be doubling their precautions.

Cleveland police said FBI agents

CHURCHILL'S DECLARATION IS ANNOUNCED

Commons, In Special Session, Told Britain Will Join With America

CITES TALK WITH U. S. PRESIDENT

Reveals Clashes Between Jap and British Troops In Northern Malaya

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 8.—Great Britain declared war on Japan today, ally-ing herself with the United States.
Prime Minister Churchill, beginning a statement as soon as he entered commons, summoned in a special session to hear his declaration, said:
"As soon as I heard last night that Japan had attacked the United States I felt it necessary that parliament should be immediately summoned."
The house of lords also had been called to sit simultaneously to hear the British prime minister's historic pronouncement.

Authorized By Cabinet
Churchill told commons that the war declaration against Japan was authorized at a noon session of his cabinet.

"I spoke to President Roosevelt on the Atlantic telephone last night with a view to arranging the time of our respective declaration," Churchill disclosed.

"Instructions were sent to our ambassador at Tokyo and a communication was dispatched to the Japanese chargé d'affaires at 1 o'clock today (7 A. M., E. S. T.) stating that in view of Japan's wanton acts of unprovoked aggression, the British government informed them that a state of war existed between the two countries," Churchill went on.

He recalled that "with the full approval of the nation and the empire I pledged the word of Great Britain about a month ago that should the United States be involved in war with Japan, a British declaration would follow within the hour."

Churchill said the Japanese began landing in British territory in northern Malaya at 6 a. m. yesterday (6 p. m., Saturday, E. S. T.) and were engaged immediately by British forces "which were ready."

He said home office measures against Japanese nationals were begun at 10:45 p. m. (4:45 p. m., E. S. T.) Sunday and told the house it could see, therefore, "that no time has been lost and we are actually ahead of our engagements."

DRUGGIST'S WIDOW SUCCEUMBS AT HOME

Mrs. Helen A. Bennett, 56, widow of Fred T. Bennett, a druggist here for many years, died at her home, 271 W. Seventh st., at 1:15 a. m. today following six weeks' illness of a cerebral hemorrhage.

The daughter of Charles and Hettie Steele, she was born July 11, 1885, in Salem and spent practically her entire life here.

Surviving are her father, Charles D., at home; two sons, Charles and Thomas, of Akron; and one grandchild.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home, in charge of Rev. Carl Asmus. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

William C. Wiegand, Jr., son of William C. Wiegand of 218 E. Fifth st., and Dan Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sutherland of 272 W. State st., are believed to be in the Pearl harbor district of Hawaii.

Also stationed at Hickam field for the past seven months is Delmar Court, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Court of Seaveken lake, who is in the mechanical section of the Army air corps.

Wayne Russell, son of H. H. Russell of 293 W. Fifth st., is now a member of Battery D, 97th coast artillery, at the Schofield barracks in Hawaii.

Known to be enroute to join other members of Company B, 47th engineers, in Hawaii, is Ralph (Bud) Holroyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holroyd of N. Ellsworth ave., whose transfer from Ford Ord, California, was announced a week ago.

Guards Placed At Standpipe, Wells; Council To Meet

Mayor Asks Five More Policemen, Four Additional Firemen; Floodlights Go On Under General "Alert" Order

Salem industrial plants working on defense contracts went on the alert today against possible acts of sabotage following Japan's declaration of war against the United States, and city council prepared to meet in special session tonight to consider extra police and fire protection for the city.

The council meeting has been called for 7:30, at the request of Mayor Norman Phillips, honorary chairman of the Salem defense council, who explained that it is imperative that the city have additional police and firemen on duty day and night to cope with any emergencies which may arise.

Extra guards were placed on duty today at the city's well fields and flood lights were being erected at the standpipe in the east end of the city. Mayor Phillips said that a guard would be placed on duty at the standpipe.

Meanwhile, special police were reported on duty at the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. plant and at the plant of the E. W. Bliss Co., two local factories which are working directly on defense contracts. The Mullins plant is ready to start work on a big shell order within a few days.

Probe Under Way
A probe was underway at one local plant, where an attempt is understood to have been made to damage some equipment. The subversive action was reported overnight.

The war department has ordered plants throughout the nation to be on guard against possible acts of sabotage.

All councilmen have been notified of the special meeting at 7:30 tonight in city hall to discuss the mayor's request for the additional police and fire protection. The session is not a committee meeting.

The mayor announced that he would ask council to appropriate funds to take care of the employment of five extra policemen and four more firemen.

"We'll just have to have them," he said. "Why, there are certain periods during the day that only one police officer is on duty. Funds for their pay will have to be dug up somehow."

Corp. James E. Bower, in charge of the Salem state highway patrol barracks, received notification this morning by Col. Lynn Black, head of the Ohio patrol, that all leaves and vacations in the patrol were cancelled and that all men were ordered to "stand by" on a 24-hour basis.

Corp. Bower, himself, had been preparing to start part of his earned vacation.

Quick And Decisive Vote Proves Unity In Face Of Danger

Senate Ballots 82 to 0; Democratic Congresswoman from Montana Casts Single Adverse Vote In House Of Representatives

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The United States, through its congress, declared war today on Japan.

The senate vote of 82 to 0 and the house vote of 388 to 1 told their own story of unity in the face of common danger. The speed with which the two chambers granted President Roosevelt's request for a declaration was unprecedented.

The single adverse house vote was that of Miss Jeanette Rankin, Democratic congresswoman from Montana, who was among the few who voted against the 1917 declaration of war on Germany.

The officially-announced loss of two warships and 3,000 men dead and wounded in Japan's raid on Hawaii was fresh in the minds of the legislators.

The senate and house had assembled together to hear President Roosevelt ask the declaration. They cheered him enthusiastically and then pushed the resolution through with not a moment's waste of time.

Japanese Infamy Assailed As Roosevelt Calls For War

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Roosevelt asked congress today to declare war against Japan.

He made the solemn, historic request after disclosing to the nation that yesterday's sudden Japanese attack on Hawaii had cost the United States two warships and 3,000 dead and wounded.

"I ask," the chief executive declared, "that the congress declare that since the unprovoked and dastardly attack by Japan on Sunday, December 7th, a state of war has existed between the United States and the Japanese empire."

The President said that yesterday was "a date which will live in infamy."

He recited the events since Japan's assault on America's Pacific bastions and said he had "directed that all measures be taken for our defense."

"Hostilities exist," Mr. Roosevelt asserted. "There is no blinking at the fact that our people, our territory and our interests are in grave danger."

"With confidence in our armed forces—with the unbounding determination of our people—we will gain the inevitable triumph—so help us God."

Mr. Roosevelt addressed the house and senate, meeting in joint session for the second time within a generation to hear a President ask for a declaration of war. His words were solemn but brief.

He said Japan had undertaken a "surprise offensive" extending throughout the Pacific, noting that the Japanese empire not only had attacked Hawaii and the Philippines but also Malaya, Hongkong, Guam, Wake and Midway islands.

"Always we will remember the character of the onslaught against us," the President said.

"No matter how long it may take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people in their righteous might will win through to absolute victory."

"I believe I interpret the will of the congress and of the people when I assert that we will not only defend ourselves to the uttermost but will make very certain that this form of treachery shall never endanger us again."

In his address, the President noted that the American naval and military forces had suffered "severe damage" in the lightning bombing raid on Hawaii and that "very many American lives have been lost."

In addition, he said, American ships have been reported torpedoed on the high seas between San Francisco and Honolulu.

He was less specific, however, than his assailants had been earlier when they announced that an American battleship had capsized in Pearl harbor, that several other war vessels had been damaged seriously, a destroyer blown up, and a

TANKS BATTLE IN 'SHOWDOWN'

Germans, British, Clashing On Desert; Russians Continue Drive

(By Associated Press)
German and British tanks fought a massive show-down battle on the sands of North Africa today, while on the Soviet front, the Russians repulsed a continuing counter-offensive by Red army troops north of Moscow.

British Middle East headquarters announced that British pressure on Axis troops in the Libyan battle was "steadily increasing."

Landing Repulsed, Says Hitler
A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said Russian troops made a futile attempt to land on the western shores of the Crimea peninsula and had been mostly destroyed. Only a few managed to escape by ship, the high command said.

Nazi military quarters said the sea-borne attack was aimed at Yevpatoriya, a port 40 miles north of the siege-bound Russian naval base at Sevastopol.

The high command also reported progress by German and Italian troops counter-attacking in the Donet, river basin.

Soviet front-line dispatches said the Russians had thrown the Nazis back 50 to 75 miles on the Rostov front and reported a violent battle raging along the Mius river, north of Taganrog, where the Germans have taken a new stand after their headlong retreat from Rostov-On-Don.

Fuel Growing Short
Russian quarters meanwhile estimated that the Germans had only sufficient fuel to carry on big-scale military operations for another eight months.

Heavy fighting continued on the Moscow front, but the Russians said it could be assumed that the latest German offensive had about run its course. Soviet reports acknowledged that the Nazis had made a slight advance in the Solonechorsk sector, 31 miles north of Moscow.

GRAPPLING FOR ADVANTAGE

Under the rule of thumb that when representatives of government quit talking they start fighting, there has been peace between the United States and Japan. But it had been questioned whether the rule of thumb means anything.

The United States and Japan are occupying irreconcilable positions. The United States says aggression is intolerable as an instrument of national policy; Japan says it insists on continuing to use aggression as an instrument of national policy. Everything else is subordinate to that issue.

Diplomatic negotiations between this country and Japan broke down 10 years ago when Japan's militarists took the bit in their teeth and began to run wild on the continent. American and Japanese diplomats since then have not been negotiating so much as they have been grappling for advantage against the day when war must break out unless Japan relented from its insistence on aggression or the United States relented from its opposition to aggression. The diplomatic phase of United States-Japanese relations ended long ago, the function of diplomacy is to preserve peace, and there could be no peace with a country dedicated to the proposition that a nation must live by war.

FINLAND'S UNSOLVED MYSTERY

Now that Great Britain has proved good faith to Soviet Russia by declaring war on Finland, the United States is in a ticklish position. The position would be less ticklish if it were not for Finland's unsolved mystery.

That is the mystery of Russia's attack on Finland two years ago. What was behind it? Most Americans jumped at the conclusion it was because Russia and Germany were working hand in hand to crush a fine, upstanding small democracy. When Russia and Germany split and soon afterward the Germans were helping the Finns fight the Russians, at least a few Americans concluded that Russia fought Finland two years ago to get a head start in the war it was going to have to fight with Germany two years hence. But that did not explain anything, least of all the belief that the Germans had something to do with the Russian attack on Finland in 1939.

So today, with the Finns trying to convince Americans that all they want is peace and that they aren't mad at anybody, except the Russians whom they are fighting for the right to survive, nothing in the situation makes sense. The thing making the least sense is the possibility that the United States might feel obliged to follow Britain's lead and look down its nose at Finland for being on the wrong side in the war.

TURKEY LIVES BY ITS WITS

An example of the kind of conclusion-jumping that has caused a lot of broken hearts in the war is currently furnished by the Turkey raffles. These hopeful gentlemen are boasting that the United States has won the Turks for the Allied side by sending it war equipment under the lend-lease act. This, they explain, has dissolved Turkey's uncertainty about choosing between the Axis and the Allies; it is now safe for the Allies.

They further explain that Turkey has saved its neck so far by not going out on the end of any limbs. When Germany shook its diplomatic position by a non-aggression pact with Russia, Turkey swung slightly out of the British orbit and into the Nazi orbit. Now that the Russians are at war with Germany and are staving off the Nazi threat of near east domination by their recent successes in the Rostov area, Turkey is swinging slightly out of the German orbit and back into the British orbit. Turkey, the wishful thinkers are pointing out, has learned to live by its wits.

All of which necessarily reminds those who are not wishful thinkers, but try to be realists, that Turkey's current diplomacy is guided by the trend of the war and not by any predisposed favor toward Great Britain. The lend-lease inducement which President Roosevelt has announced does not guarantee that the Turks will not continue to be realists if at some later date the trend of the war in their security zone again seems to be in Germany's favor.

QUESTIONS WITHOUT ANSWERS

Demands to know exactly how far the United States is prepared to go in the way of lend-lease and military action to help win the war are foolish. These are questions without exact answers. It may be assumed the United States is going to do everything within its power that needs to be done, but that is not a satisfactory answer.

As to the possibility that the United States may have plans for an expeditionary force to Europe, it must be remembered that it is part of the military establishment's duty to have plans ready at all times for every conceivable contingency. If the war department did not have such a plan it would be derelict in its duty. But possession of the plan does not mean there will be an expeditionary force, any more than possession of a fire department means there will be a fire.

As to the money the United States will spend, the limit must be established by need and capacity. There is no formula whereby the government can arrive at a figure, promising that if and when that figure is reached everything will be called off. It is possible the United States may reach that point before its security has been reestablished, but no one relishes the prospect, not even the most rabid interventionists. Perhaps the best way to answer them in their demands for specific information is to ask them what they would do. Their answer, if honest, would be the same as the answer they are receiving: they would do whatever needed to be done.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, December 9

SPLENDID opportunities for putting over expansive productive and progressive programs, are indicated by an interesting chain of planetary aspects. If attacked with great vigor and enterprise, certain bold strokes of genius or skill should be bound to attract the attention of large organizations, or powerful personages, amply able and willing to offer unlimited capital and resources for promotion of sound and constructive projects. Such cooperation should overcome opposition from an elder, making way for enduring success and good fortune. Law, travel, change, and new ideas should thrive.

Those whose birthday it is may be at the threshold of a year memorable for its splendid success in launching major and enduring propositions, under spur of high initiative, skill and creative ability, which merit the active support of ample capital, friendly encouragement and good will, despite stubborn opposition from elders or old institutions. With daring, sound plans and brilliant ideas all should flourish while change, travel, litigation as well as personal prestige are indicated. This may be a year for attaining high goals and cherished desires.

A child born on this day should be equipped with excellent talents, resources and all essentials for reaching high places of honor and achievement, with hearty support and approval from those in influential positions.

AMERICA RESPONDS TO CHALLENGE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

As I was making my way to the office in the early morning hours today my friend, the mild-mannered young policeman on point duty, informed me in no uncertain tones that he was damned-well going to join-up to fight the Japs—and so, I take it, speaks the spirit of all America.

We no longer have to hunt a name for the conflict which was whelped in eastern Europe just over two years ago—it's the second World war at last.

All the great powers now are officially involved, and most of the smaller nations.

It may be that the Nipponese have done this thing on their own initiative, but ipso facto they come under the overlordship of the German fuhrer as part of his fighting machine. The lines are clearly drawn. It's a world-wide battle to a finish between the Axis and the Allies, and the United States is one of the Allies.

The Japanese adventure looks like a very desperate gamble for a nation which not only is poorly equipped but is absolutely isolated from its Axis partners. Still, the line of reasoning which has impelled this onslaught is not hard to follow.

Acceptance of the American terms would mean that Japan must abandon her conquests, give up her cherished program for territorial expansion by force and abandon establishment of absolute hegemony over the Far East. She figures that she can't lose much more than that in material things by fighting it out, and if Hitler should win she also would have achieved her ambitions—provided she could handle the fuhrer.

CONTINUES DISCUSSION ON WATER

Clendening Talks About Home Treatments

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A recent article in this column on the use of water in treatment has brought such a favorable response from several of my valued readers who have urged me to continue the discussion, that this article is in the nature of a "by request" contribution.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Water can be used in treatment by varying its modality—hot and cold, still and moving, and the length of time employed. A cold stream of water played on the body forcibly from a hose has a different effect from a hot bath in the bath tub and almost endless variations of these simple modalities can be used in various diseases.

It must be remembered also that they can be used either for local affections or for general conditions. For instance, a hot pack on an infected finger is an example of local treatment, and enveloping the entire body in a wet pack over night is an example of general treatment for the purpose of inducing sleep and overcoming fatigue and nervousness.

Home Treatments

I said in my previous article that most effective hydrotherapeutic procedures could be carried out in any American bathroom. There is one, however, which requires the facilities of a hydrotherapeutic establishment and where this is available, I strongly recommend it.

That is the Scotch douche which consists of a stream of cold water and a stream of hot water directed on the naked body from two hoses at the same time. I know of nothing that is calculated to be more beneficial for the tired, nervous, over-active business man in these war-time days than a Scotch douche.

The streams of water can be played, alternately hot and cold, along the spine and over the rest of the body. The impingement of the water is stimulating to a great degree. You can just feel your nerves straighten out with the result that every muscle in the body is relaxed and you can lie down for a few minutes before the appetite comes surging for that dinner that should make you banish the cares of the day.

Affusion

A somewhat similar treatment which results in somewhat the same reactions in the body can be carried out in your bathroom and is called affusion. Affusion is usually given with the patient sitting in an empty bath tub. The bottom of the bath tub should be covered with a bath towel. A pitcher of water with a temperature of 90 to 86 degrees F. is poured on the body by the attendant who holds the pitcher about head-high and with up-raised arm.

The simplicity of the technique of the affusion idea has caused it to be neglected for more complicated and spectacular forms of treatment. It is valuable in any condition which is accompanied by fatigue, nervous exhaustion, and characterized by loss of tone and resistance.

The effect of the affusion is not the same as that of a cold bath and not the same as a cold shower. The shock caused by a broad stream of cold water is the secret of its effectiveness. In the case of the weak patient it is well to begin with warmer water and gradually reach the colder temperature. It can be carried out in the evening before going to bed day after day for many weeks in succession.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. E. C.:—"What causes St. Vitus dance? Is it easily cured?"
Answer: St. Vitus dance, which the doctors call chorea, is an infectious disease related to inflammatory rheumatism. It affects the nervous system and causes the patient to make continuous purposeless movements. It responds very well to treatment. An attack lasts about two months.

OHIO MOVING TO AID U. S. DEFENSE

Throws Full Facilities Into Government Efforts To Defeat Japan

Orders to all state departments to cooperate in every way in fulfilling all requests of the federal government, giving these priority.

Request From Provost Marshal
The request for Ohio State Guard cooperation was received from Provost Marshal General Gullett in the following telegram:

"The secretary of war has directed me to suggest to you that you consider preparing the state guard or other forces at your disposal for cooperation with federal troops operating under the command of the corps area in which your state is located with a view to protecting all structures, plants and facilities essential to national defense. The corps area commander is directed to communicate with you regarding this matter."

Major Gen. Daniel Van Vorhis is commander of the Fifth corps area at Fort Hayes.

Instructions for participation of the state's air arm in the defense program came from Robert Hinchey, assistant secretary of commerce for air. His telegram:

"Request immediate steps be taken to assign properly authorized police officers to all landing fields for aircraft for protection of field facilities and to hold such aircraft on the fields unless they are engaged in scheduled air transportation or are publicly owned or operated under contract with the federal government, pending the issue of instructions as to how such aircraft may be permitted to leave the air by properly accredited representatives of the Civil Aeronautic Administration or by a commanding officer of an army or navy aircraft."

Orders for the formation of the civil air patrol as communicated to you a few days ago by office of civil defense urgent."

Draft Officials Ready

Leut. Col. C. W. Goble, state selective service head, declared today his organization was "geared to handle any load put on us" by the war emergency.

Goble, moving to carry out immediately orders from Washington affecting Ohioans eligible for military service, emphasized that men released from service and placed in the enlisted reserve corps were subject to immediate recall by the war department and were not under jurisdiction of local draft boards.

"Men who have actually been discharged from the army are not subject to recall to active duty without first going through the process of enlistment or induction by local boards," he explained.

He said national headquarters had reported 4,851 Ohioans released from service and indicated that a complete report would boost the total by several hundreds. Approximately 95 per cent of those released are in the enlisted reserve corps, staff officers estimated.

The 2,000 officers and enlisted men in the Ohio State Guard can be mobilized within a few hours to cope with any disaster, riot or other emergency requiring its attention, Adj. Gen. Whittier S. Bird said.

Protection of defense plants and military facilities is the army's duty, Bird added, but the state guard is "fully prepared" to perform any tasks assigned to it by the federal government.

Another Salem youth reported in the Philippines is Johnny Untsch, son of Mrs. John Herman, Washington ave.

Walter Abblett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abblett of Ohio ave., had been on duty in Hawaii until three weeks ago, was attending a special naval school in California yesterday when the attacks occurred. He is scheduled to return home soon, however.

Two Salem boys on board the U. S. S. Arkansas in Pacific waters are Daryl Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beck of Washington ave., and David Birkhimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Birkhimer of the Salem country club.

Beck until recently, was in Hawaii but was transferred as a radio operator to the Arkansas home base at Portland, Me.

Two East Fairfield youths, Blair Campbell and Robert McIntire, are members of Company D, 19th Infantry at the Schofield barracks in Hawaii, the Salem draft board reported.

Lisbon Dec. 8—Four Lisbon youths are known to have been stationed at the Pearl harbor naval base in the Pacific which was bombed yesterday.

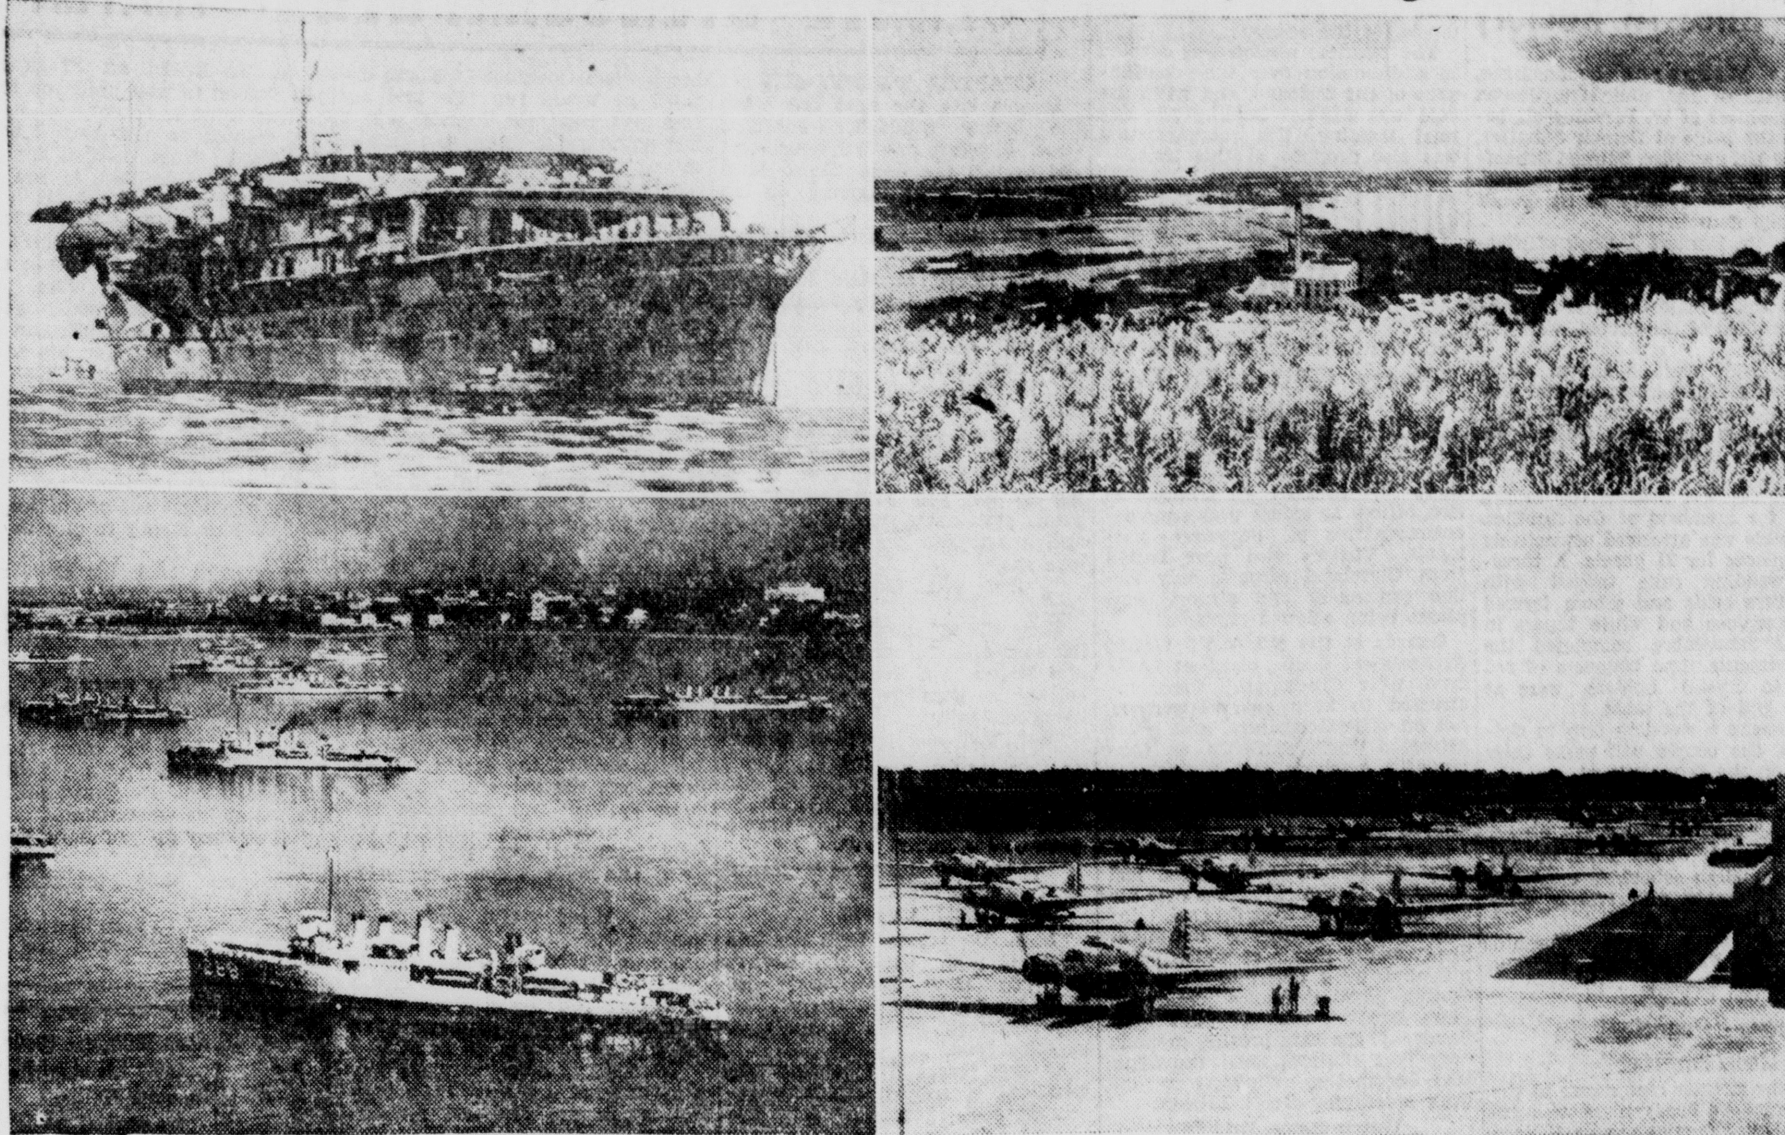

The quartet includes Robert Kesner, Dudley Smith, Gale Cooper and Ralph Ward.

Hunter Is Fined

LISBON, Dec. 8—Willis Rosenbaum, of Signal, arrested by Game Warden L. W. Boring on charges of illegal trapping and trespassing, was fined $25 and costs on the first count and $10 and costs on the second count at a hearing Saturday night before Mayor C. C. Persons.

PHILIPPINES ARE BOMBED TODAY

Japs Strike at Military Bases Whole Length Of Islands

By R. P. CRONIN, Jr.

MANILA, Dec. 8—Japanese bombers struck at military bases and forts the length of the Philippines today, smashing at the big Fort Stotsenburg, Clark field, the summer mountain capital at Baguio, the ports of Davao and Aparri and the far northern Batan island group.

Manila had heard no air raid alarms and seen no raiding planes early tonight although Japanese warcraft were reported within 40 miles of the densely populated city.

Manila, which has no public air raid shelters, was blacked out beneath heavily overcast skies from soon after dusk. Other posts also shut off lights and waited tensely.

The army headquarters announced that Davao, center of concentrated Japanese population on the southernmost of the large islands, and Baguio, summertime mountain capital of the Philippines north of Manila, had been bombed by daylight.

Private advices from Fort Stotsenburg, on Luzon island, said three Japanese planes had been shot down without American losses in a second attack there.

Attack Luzon Base

(Dome broadcast what it described as a reliable report from neutral sources that the Japanese air force attacked Ft. Stotsenburg, headquarters of the United States army in northern Luzon, heavily damaged the airfield and blew up numerous oil reservoirs during afternoon attacks on the Philippines.)

Although Japanese planes at one time were within 40 miles of Manila the city's air raid alarm system was not sounded.

The air raid warden declared he was not informed promptly of the raids at Baguio and Clark fields.

Thousands of persons in Manila at first were unable to believe that the war had come. Crowds milled in the streets until the blackout hour while police, soldiers and constabulary rounded up the city's Japanese population of about 5,000. They were taken in trucks to detention areas. No incidents were reported.

One Japanese was arrested in the Manila bay port area where he was caught cutting telephone wires. Another was caught using a radio transmitter.

Manila Fears Attack

Up to 7:20 p. m. (6:20 a. m. E. S. T.) Manila itself still was free from attack, but the night drew near, anxiety increased that Japanese air raiders would break through the city's outer defenses under cover of darkness.

The attacks on Davao and Baguio were carried out in daylight.

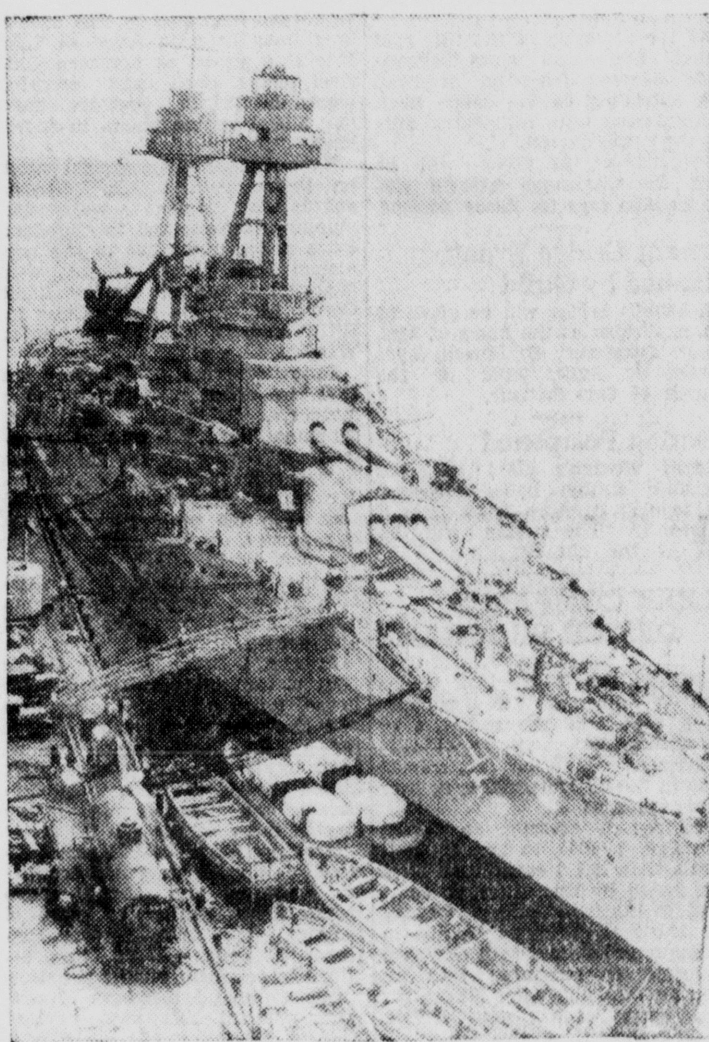

Army and navy centers near Manila, such as the big island fortress of Corregidor, Nichols airport and the Cavite, escaped attack in the daylight raids, though the Japanese struck at some other military objectives.

The mayor of Davao reported later that the Japanese had made a second assault on Davao and had attacked a U. S. aircraft carrier in the bay.

Francis B. Sayre, American high commissioner in the Philippines, meanwhile declared that the situation was "well in hand."

Reports reached here meanwhile that the Japanese also had attacked the U. S.-owned island of Guam, some 1,400 miles east of the Philippines.

Fired by Japanese Bombs?

An announcement has been made in Honolulu that the United States battleship Oklahoma, above, was set afire in Pearl harbor by Japanese bombs.

LATE FLASHES FROM PACIFIC

NBC reporter, broadcasting in the midst of an early Tuesday morning air attack on Manila said that "terrible damage" had been left by the Japanese attackers, including the apparent destruction of the gasoline supply at Nichols air field.

MANILA, Dec. 8—The Japanese radio at Taihoku, Formosa, reported in a broadcast today that Japanese warships have surrounded Guam and said all big buildings on the island were ablaze.

ONE MISHAP MARS PERFECT WEEKEND

Salem state highway patrolmen thought they were going to have an accident-free weekend until Anthony Schettino, 46, of 171 Manchester ave., Youngstown, drove his car into a bridge on Route 344, midway between Leetonia and Columbiana, at 10:30 p. m. Sunday.

There were no other traffic mishaps during the weekend.

Schettino, traveling east on the road when his automobile hit the bridge culvert, suffered a fractured right shoulder and left hip. He was removed to Youngstown South Side hospital.

RAVENNA PICKET LINES WITHDRAWN

RAVENNA, Dec. 3—Picket lines were withdrawn at the $7,000,000 Ravenna shell-loading plant today by four striking unions whose leaders indicated the dispute would be ended promptly in view of the national emergency.

President R. R. Walker of the National Aeronautics Workers of America announced a meeting of union officials to consider the groups' position.

The unions called the strike last Wednesday, asserting Atlas Powder Co., which operates the plant, had refused to sign a union shop contract after previously agreeing to it. Atlas officials declared the strike never was more than 17 per cent effective.

POTTERS TO OPEN CLEVELAND RALLY

EAST LIVERPOOL, Dec. 8—Ceramic manufacturers will go to Cleveland tomorrow to open the 65th annual two-day convention of the United States Potters' association, which will discuss requests of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters for wage increases.

The manufacturers will vote instructions for their labor committee, headed by Joseph M. Wells of Newell, W. Va., who will represent employers in a collective bargaining conference with union leaders Dec. 16 in New York City.

The brotherhood has been granted permission to reopen a contract signed Feb. 24, under which 20,000 union workers were given pay increases ranging from 9 to 18 1/2 per cent.

CHURCHILL JOINS IN WAR ON JAPS

Commons, In Special Session, Told Britain Will Join With America

has assured "Thailand that an attack on her will be regarded as an attack on us."

(Thailand already has been attacked and, according to the Japanese, already has submitted to negotiations.)

Besides his message to Thailand, Churchill added, he sent Chinese General Chiang Kai-Shek assurances that "hence forth we would face the common foe together."

Churchill charged that Japanese envoys were ordered to prolong their mission in the United States "in order to keep conversations going while a surprise attack was being prepared and before a declaration of war could be delivered."

"No one can doubt that every effort to bring about a peaceful solution has been made by the government of the United States and that immense patience has been shown in the face of a growing Japanese menace," he told commons, adding:

"It only remains now for the two great democracies to face their tasks with whatever strength God may give them."

The house cheered enthusiastically as the prime minister informed it:

"Every preparation in our power has been made and we shall give a good account of ourselves. . . .

"Do Our Best"

"There is the closest accord with the powerful American naval and air forces and with the strong, efficient forces of The Netherlands East Indies."

"We shall do our best."

The prime minister, asserting significantly that some "of the finest ships of the royal navy have reached their destinations at a convenient moment," declared that "we can only feel that Hitler's madness has infected the Japanese mind."

Then, in a confident conclusion, Churchill thus predicted triumph: "We have no need to doubt the justice of our cause or that our strength and willpower will be sufficient to sustain it. We have four-fifths of the population of the world on our side."

In the past, our light has flickered, today it flames; in the future there will be a light that shines over all lands and seas."

Aloha Hawaiian Entertainers Open Extended Visit At Metzger Hotel

CROWDS WELCOME NOTED MUSICIANS

Four Men, Two Girls, Provide Tuneful, Varied Entertainment

One of the most interesting and versatile Hawaiian musical groups in this section for a long time is now providing patrons of the Silver Bar at the Hotel Metzger with nightly programs of their favorite selections as well as the universally favored strains of the famous islands.

The Aloha six have begun a long visit here, opening to large audiences over the weekend.

They will appear nightly at the Silver Bar until after the holidays, it was announced today.

The group is made up of four men and two girls. Their repertoire includes, of course, the lovely music of Hawaii, but the Aloha musicians are skilled portrayals, too, of the modern tunes.

The girls present original dances of the islands, the sacrificial dance of the gourd and the virgin dance.

The master of ceremonies, Huki Don Ferrera, states that the beginning of the show that they can't take you to Hawaii so they bring Hawaii to you, and a good job is done. An evening spent at the Silver Bar sends one home dreaming of the palm trees, beach at Waikiki, and those daring, flashing hula girls.

The hulas and gourd dances are taken care of by two charming Hawaiians lately featured in some of the better known hotels and night clubs in the country, Misses Aloha Shaw and Malie Kane, two South Sea beauties.

The music is taken care of capably by the "Three Coconuts," radio and recording artists.

The soft charm of the Hawaiian moonlight is brought out clearly in the soft strains of their natural melodies.

HEAVIER TRAFFIC SEEN THIS WINTER

Local Garage Experts Urge Motorists To Have Car Prepared

Don Smith at Smith's garage, Third St., and Vine ave., points out that "traffic will be heavier this winter, particularly in industrial areas with important defense work," and that "traffic blockades, semi-blind driving and sickening skid-wrecks must be prevented by practical methods."

What are those methods? Based on research, Smith recommends the following rules when dangerous conditions prevail:

1—Skids on snow or ice are frequently started by unbalanced brakes. Have your brakes checked and equalized. The practice of letting air out of tires for snow and ice conditions gives very little added traction and increases instability and tendency to skid on curves. It also damages tires.

2—Without chains even good tire treads slip and slide on snow or ice. The chains bite into hard-packed snow or icy road surface.

3—Windshield wipers and defrosters that don't operate lead to winter accidents. Make sure wipers and defrosters are in good working order. You must see a hazard to avoid it.

4—Faulty headlights are causes of winter accidents. Use "traffic beam" in city or when passing other cars in country. Replace dead light bulbs immediately. Have headlights checked for focus and direction.

5—High speeds on snow or ice are more than doubly dangerous. It takes three to 11 times normal distance to stop on snow or ice. Adjust your speed to conditions.

6—"Crowding" other vehicles ahead of you or at your side is criminal carelessness on snow-covered pavement. Maintain plenty of stopping space between your car and the car in front of you. Allow all the "skid space" possible between your fenders and the cars on each side.

7—Sudden slowdowns and stops are a primary cause of sliding, skidding and spinning. Slow down gradually in gear and "pump" brakes on-and-off to point of impending skid. Keep wheels from locking.

8—Cold weather encourages closed car windows and increases danger from carbon monoxide. Don't stay in closed garage or in car with tightly closed windows when warming up engine. Keep cowl ventilator open a bit while driving.

The garment then is placed on the horizontal shaking chamber of the vibramover table to remove loose dust and hair, moths and larvae.

In the next operation, the garment is sponged on the vibracover table. Both the lining and fur are sprayed in preparation for the drumming solvent.

The final operation is cleaning in the fur drum. A special fur-cleaning compound slides in and out of the fur. It absorbs grease and dirt.

Various little changes in these operations are occasioned by different types of furs, but in main, this program is generally followed. With modern, first-class equipment, such as used at the Paris, furs are not only revitalized but are given added years of life.

Complete Check-up Service Is Offered Free By Salem Garage

With the Grate Motor Co. on S. Ellsworth ave. offering a free check-up on wheel alignment, motorists of Salem and vicinity need not endure the vibration and shimmying that often distract from the pleasures of driving.

Operated by E. L. Grate, an expert in the automobile field, this garage specializes in automobile wheel and frame problems.

The free check-up service that Grate's offer constitutes a rare privilege for motorists. "We give this service willingly and without obligation. A motorist may bring his car to us, and we will give it the once-over conscientiously. If there is anything out of line, we will say so, and if there isn't, again the owner will be told," Grate explains.

Straightening To handle the wheel alignment and frame repair work in which Grate's specialize, the shop contains the very latest equipment.

The equipment includes a wheel straightener that will handle any kind of wheel. It's work is so effective that Grate's can take the most severely damaged wheel and literally make a new product. The value of such equipment to motorists is apparent immediately because its availability means money saved to car owners.

Then, there is the wheel balancer which attacks such automobile bugaboos as shimmying, steering gear shaking and vibration. Grate points out that all wheels should be checked every 5,000 miles at the most. Even new cars sometimes need wheel balancing. As a matter of fact, many purchasers of brand new cars take them to Grate's immediately for a check on the wheels.

Efficient Work The ultra-modern equipment in Grate's shop also includes the frame and axle straightening machine.

DEATHS

WESLEY WHINNERY

Wesley Whinnery, 66, died at his home in Winona at 9:15 a. m. today following three years' illness.

Quakers Open Home Season Against Lisbon Quintet Tomorrow

TALL BLUE DEVIL COURTMEN HOPE TO HAND LOCALS LOSS

Quakers After Revenge For Defeat Suffered Last Year

Showing their wares before the home town fans for the first time this season, the Salem High Quakers will play host to the Lisbon Blue Devils on the High school court tomorrow night.

The locals will be out to avenge last year's surprise loss, the first suffered by a Salem team at the hands of Lisbon in 21 years. The county seat lads are blessed by the return of one regular, Dave Eason, and three lettermen, all of whom are slightly on the green side. Last year's letter-winners are Don Loch, Ralph McDevitt, and Tom Fife. The last two named are both over the six foot mark, giving promise that this year's edition of a basketball team from Lisbon will be taller than any Blue Devil squad for several seasons.

The Lisbonites, like the Quakers, opened their season Friday and, like the Quakers, they lost their opener by a 19-17 count to the Struthers Big Red which is not rated too strongly this season. Thus both get together on the same floor in a battle for victory. The Blue Devils will try to stretch their winning streak over the locals to two games while the Quakers will be anxious to put the first notch on another Lisbon winless string against the Salemites.

Coach Herbert Brown has said nothing about the coming game but expresses the feeling that he was satisfied with the Quakers' play against the Ravenna Ravens last Friday night.

When asked about the game early last week, Brown said, "Lisbon's team we're after this season. We owe 'em one for last year."

The game will be on the revenge side from the Salem viewpoint with everyone wanting victory over the sometimes surprising Lisbon quintet.

Brown has not named his starting line for tomorrow night's fray but it is generally expected that the same quintet that began the Ravenna game will also be on the floor when the battle begins.

McKinley Upsets Columbia, 30 - 17

McKinley, Reilly and Prospect scored wins in the first games of the Mickey McGuire league Saturday at the Memorial building. McKinley upset last year's champions, Columbia, by a 30-17 count with Mayhew chalking up 23 points to lead the attack.

Reilly scored a 16-12 win over Fourth Street in a close battle. Miner and Hanna split scoring honors for Reilly with six points each while Taylor garnered the same number to pace Fourth Street.

Prospect defeated St. Paul in another close game, 12-8. Beck, Burger and Parlow accounted for all of Prospect's tallies while Ciccozzi tossed in 7 to lead St. Paul.

COLUSA, Cal. — Mrs. Henry Stinchfield was hanging out the family washing during the open pheasant season, when a beautiful pheasant wandered into the yard.

But without a hunting license, all she could do was to fire a gun in the air. The frightened pheasant flew into the garage. Mrs. Stinchfield quickly closed the door, and when her husband returned, with his hunting license in one hand and the meat ax in the other, he finished the job.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. — (Wall World)—The break-bashing business may be one of the first to suffer as a result of the war with Japan.

With Welterweight Champ Freddie Cochrane, George Abrams, Mary Servo, Fred Apostoli and other grade-A scrappers in the navy, there will be a good many spots to fill until the boys get their leaves again. . . . Cochrane was due for a furlough beginning Thursday to start training for his Miami spot with Bobby Britton, but he'll be lucky to get it now.

Today's Guest Star

B. M. Atkinson, Jr., Louisville Times: "Wallace Wade probably would prefer playing in the Hollywood Bowl instead of the Rose Bowl. The passes that beat him last time were all screened."

Postman's Paragraph

Couple of Carolina readers remind us that Tom Burns isn't the only Duke player whose brother preceded him to the Rose Bowl. Tom Davis, soph tailback, is a brother of Jap Davis, reserve fullback on the Duke Rose Bowl team of 1938. . . . One of them also asks how we think the game will come out. Answer: About $200,000 to the good. . . . This week's brass ring goes to Joe B. McGee of the Conway (Ark.) Log Cabin Democrat. Last Wednesday he wrote: "Don't be surprised if Oregon university returns home from Austin, Tex., Saturday night complaining about the hot Texas weather." Bibbie's bunch will make it plenty hot for them, and it won't be the weather."
